WAR PREVENTS CELEBRATION OF AMERICAN PEACE CENTENARY

Abandon Plans to Observe Anniversary of Treaty With Great Britain in Ghent

[Associated Press] NEW YORK—Had the European war not interfered, there would have been December 28 in Ghent, Belgium, a celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent by representatives of the United States and Great Britain. The burgomaster of Ghent was to have tendered a banquet to 50 American, 50 English and 50 Canadian delegates in the hall where the treaty was signed.

Later, St. George Manor, the ancestral home of George Washington in England, was to have been presented to the American people by the British peace committee. The home already has been purchased, it probably will be rehabilitated and presented later.

Believing despite the war the anniversary should not pass unobserved in the United States, a number of widely known citizens of this country who are interested in the movement issued a communication asking that the day be remembered and celebrated at specified dates beginning February 14. The communication follows:

"One hundred years ago today there was signed at Ghent in Flanders the treaty of peace between Great Britain and the United States, which marked the close of what has happily proved to be the last war between English-speaking peoples of the earth. Today the city of Ghent is at the very center of the terrible conflict that rages in Europe.

"The American Peace Centenary committee cannot permit this anniversary to pass without inviting the thoughtful attention of their fellow citizens to the contrast presented by the century-long period of peace which English-speaking peoples have enjoyed among themselves on the one hand, and the appalling destruction of life, property and great monuments of civilization which the European war involves on the other. It had been our confident hope that the example which the English-speaking peoples have set in their relations with each other would be followed by the other great nations of the earth in their several international relations. It had been our earnest desire that the spirit of peaceful and friendly cooperation which each of these peoples manifests toward the people of the United States would also mark their dealings with one another. Unfortunately this was not to be, and we are sorrowfully called upon to mark our centenary celebration in the midst of the most terrible and destructive war that history records.

"Even at such a time we must avow once more our emphatic faith in the supremacy of justice over force, of law over might. We rejoice in the peaceful relations of a hundred years among all English-speaking peoples, and particularly in the undented and unfortified line nearly four thousand miles in length, which divides the territory of the United States from that of the Dominion of Canada. The mutual trust, forbearance and helpfulness which make that undefended boundary a link and not a barrier between two peoples, we offer as an example to our warring brothers across the sea.

"It had been our purpose, when our committee was organized in 1910, to plan for a great celebration of the centenary anniversary by various methods which have now, because of the terrible war which is still convulsing Europe and disturbing the whole world, become impracticable until the close of the conflict.

"But we appeal to the people in all the states and to all civic bodies to mark this notable anniversary by suitable exercises in churches of all denominations on the 14th of February.

the date agreed upon for that purpose with our associate the Canadian committee by personal addresses at the capitals of the respective states on the 17th and 18th of February. The dates of the ratification and promulgation of the treaty, and also the appropriate exercises in all the schools on the 22nd day of February, or on such later date or dates in the spring of 1915 as may be locally deemed preferable.

"By which all the children of America should be instructed on the significance of this great event, and of the happy prospect which is assured to us in spite of this horrible war, of another century of continued peace between all the English-speaking peoples of the world."

The signers were: Joseph H. Choate, chairman, New York; William Howard Taft, New Haven; Thomas F. Bayard, Wilmington; George W. Burleigh, New York; Nicholas Murray Butler, New York; William A. Clark, New York; John D. Cummings, New York; William Curtis Demorest, New York; Henry S. Drinker, South Bethel; John H. Finley, Albany; Austen G. Fox, New York; Albert Eugene Gallatin, New York; James Cardinal Gibbons, Baltimore; Samuel Gomper, Washington, D. C.; W. O. Hart, New Orleans; Job E. Hedges, New York; Andrew B. Humphrey, New York; Harry Pratt Judson, Chicago; Theodore Marburg, Baltimore; Henry C. Morris, Chicago; Robert C. Morris, New York; Alton B. Parker, New York; Elihu Root, Washington, D. C.; Francis Lynde Steierson, New York; John A. Stewart, New York; Oscar S. Straus, New York; and Frank S. Streeter, Concord.

Plans for the celebration were directed in this country by the American Peace Centenary Committee, which has headquarters here.

KANOHI GIVEN REPRIMAND BUT IS REINSTATED

David Kanohi, discharged from the police department, November 11, for insubordination, is reinstated today, after a hearing before the civil service commission, at a quiet meeting last night.

Attorney W. T. Rawlins argued for the reinstatement of Kanohi for more than a half hour, followed by a short talk by Sheriff Ross, in which that official declared Kanohi's return to the department would result in no further discipline. A police union chairman, Andrew Severy, criticized Kanohi.

You got what was coming to you, declared Andrews, speaking for the commission, and if you were merely just, you would not be given a chance. As it is we have decided to be merciful, but we won't restate you now. The order goes into effect after the last day of January.

Kanohi was discharged for alleged refusal to perform extra duty at a ball game on October 23, the removal taking effect November 11.

Vacancies in the police and sheriff's department will be filled in the near future, according to plans made last night. O. A. Green was appointed policeman in the fire department. His name was submitted by Fire Chief Thurston as successor to S. Apo, resigned.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel and Pills act on Liver and Bowels like Pepper acts in Nostrils—Danger!

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep—advertisment.
